INVICORATING CORDIAL

FOR GENITAL DEBILITY, IMPOTENCY, INCONTINENCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c.—The as-NENCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c.—The astonishing success which has attended this invaluable medicine, for Loss of Muscular Energy, Physical Lastitude, and General Prostration, or any of the consequences of youthful indiscretion, or indulgence of the passion in riper years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered. In fact, as a remedy for the above complaints, it stands unrivalled and alone. There is no other reliable remedy, or any that has authentically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty. The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested, and its virtues proclaimed, by the highest names of the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in this country. It is the the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in this country. It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS, HEAD, and MIND COMPLAINTS—the mental physics so long sought for and mever before found—the only agent that can administer to MIND DISEASES. It will remove all nervous affections, DEPRESSION, EXCITEMENT, incapacity to study or business, loss of MEMORY, CONVUSION, thoughts of self-destruction, fear of insanity, &c. It will restore the appetite, renew the health of those who have destroyed it by Sensual Excesses or evil practices. It has been said by some that these disorders, emissions, &c., were incurable. This however, is not the fact. some that these disorders, emissions, ac., were more than this, however, is not the fact.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL has cured.

and is constantly curing, these complaints—relieving the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the names received will conclu-

the following testimony of the names received will conclusively show:

Dr. Woodward, of —, Massachusetts Insane Hospital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using this Cordial thus: "It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients, while in Boston, precured some of your Cordial. He tells me that he has not had a single emission since he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week. When he applied to me," says Dr. W., "I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength. I prescribed the usual medicine used in those cases in the hospital, but they had no effect. In the mean time he purchased some of your Cordial, which has effected a cure I am sure no other medicine would. I shall over recommend it, whenever an opportunity occurs."

a cure I am sure no other medicine would. I shall over recommend it, whenever an opportunity occurs."

The nature of the maiadies relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cures out of the question. The proprietor could produce a host of the most conclusive testimony to show that the great reputation it enjoys was not accidentally obtained, but is firmly based upon its pesitive and apparently miraculous virtues. In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offsprings, who would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended.

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS have not, in a single instance that has been authenticated, have not, in a single instance that has been authenticated, given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. It has, in many violent and desperate cases, effected radical cures, after patients had been abandoned, and their condition promounced hopeless by medical practitioners of high professional character.

THE COMMON EXPRESSION of those who have used this Extract is: "I had heard your Cordial highly spoken of, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits, having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose, (different Sarsaparillas,) without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hope of obtaining relief, when I purchased some of yeur Cordial. I had no faith whatever of its benefiting me—but it has. I feel stronger, have had no emissions since, although it is not three weeks. I am satisfied that the half a dozen bottles I took will cure me."

took will cure me."

Another says: "I had consulted several distinguished physicians, Some said I could not be cured; others prescribed this thing and that; but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial. I must say it completely

Another says: "I was surprised at the effect your Cordial had. Why had I not heard of it before? It would have sayed me so much expense, besides years of mental and bodily suffering."

CAUTION.—Ask for Dr. Morze's Cordial, and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which its unrivalled excellence, fame, and popularity have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate female, but do good. Beware of all other Cordinis, &c., and try only this.

It is put up in pint bottles, with the words Dr. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL blown on the glass. Price §3: per bottle; two bottles, $5: six bottles, $12; and $24 per dozen.

Young Men especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.

Married persons, or those contamplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, should immediately consult Dr. J., and be restored to perfect health.

Office, No. 7 South Frederick street, Baltimore, Maryland, on the left hand side, going from Baltimore street, seven doors from the corner. Be particular in observing the name and number, or you will mistake the place.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most entirent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervoueness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by private and improper indulgences, that secret and solitary habit, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for habit, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business or society.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c., &c. Mentally.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion of Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Weakness of the system, Nervous Debility and premature decay generally arise from the destructive habit of youth, that solitary practice se fatal to the healthful existence of man, and it is the young who are most apt to become its Victims, from an ignorance of the dangers to which they subject themselves. Parents and Guardians are often misled with respect to the cause or source of disease in their sons and wards. Alas! how often do they ascribe to other causes the wasting of the frame, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, derangement of the Nervous System, Cough, and Symptoms of Consumption; also those serious Mental effects, such as loss of Memory, Depression of Spirits, or peculiar fits of Melancholy, when the truth is, they have been aused by indulging in Pernicious but alluring practices destructive to both Body and Mind. Thus are swept from existence thousands who might have been of use to their Country, a pleasure to their friends, and ornaments to Society.

Society. DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REMEDY FOR OR-

GANIC WEAKNESS.

This grand and important Remedy has restored strength and vigor to thousands of the most debilitated individuals, many who had lost all hopes, and been abandoned to die. By its complete invigoration of the Nervous System, the whole faculities become restored to their proper power and functions, and the fallon fabric of life is raised up to beauty, consistency and duration, upon the ruins of an emacated and premature decline, to sound and pristine health. Oh, how happy have hundreds of misguided youths been made, who have been suddenly restored to health from the devastations of those terrific maladies which result from indiscretion! Such persons, before contemplating ion! Such persons, before contemplating MARRIAGE.

MARRIAGE, should reflect that a sound mind and bedy are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without this, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hearly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the miancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. Johnston confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.
TO STRANGERS.

The many thousands cured at this institution within the last ten years, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. J., witnessed by the Reporters of the papers and many other persons, notices of which have appeared regain and again before the public, is a sufficient guaranty that the afflicted will find a skilful and honorable TAKE NOTICE.

TAILE NOTICE.

It is with the greatest rejuctance that Dr. Johnston permits his eard to appear before the public, deeming it unprofessional for a physician to advertise; but unless he did so, the afflicted, especially strangers, could not fail to fall into the afflicted, especially strangers, could not fail to fall into the hands of those imprudent, boasting impostors—individuals destitute of knowledge, name, and character—pedlars, shoemakers, mechanics, &c.. advertising themselves as physicians: ignorant quacks, who keep you trilling month after month, as long as possible, and in despair leave you with ruined health to sigh over your galling disappointment. It is this motive alone that induces Dr. J. to advertise, for healone can cure you. To those unacquainted with his reputation he deems it necessary to say, that his credentials or diplomas always hang in his Office.

Weakness of the Organs immediately cured, and full vigor restored.

KRAUSER'S PATENT CLOVER-SEED HAR-VESTER IS BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR THE FIRST TIME IS BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR THE FIRST TIME

The stillity is beyond comparison with any other farming implement now in use. It takes the seed from the field, leaving the straw or grass all standing. It weighs two hundred and fifty pounds, is drawn by one horse, and gathers from ten to twelve acres per day. The fingers, or teeth, catch all the heads, the revolving knives cut them off and throw them back into the box, which will cross a twenty-acre field without emptying. The heads are then loaded into a wagon and taken directly to the mill for cleaning, thus diminishing the labor three-fourths, and saving all the seed. This machine comes so low that every farmer will have it, and pays the manufacturer 300 per cent.

This is to certify that Mr. G. J. Naylor has gathered clover off of a sixteen-acre field of mine, which has been pastured two months with ten head of cattle, and it produced six Tushels and a half and one peck of seed. I gave him two-thirds for gathering and cleaning. I think his machine is first-rate, and answers all the purpose that is intended. The following points out the profitable nature of the Harvester:

We have conversed with a number of Farmers, and they are f opinion that there are at least 3,000 acres in each township in Camden or Gloucoster county, New Jersey. A wanted for Popular and Useful Books just published.—
CALIFORNIA ILLUSTRATED, including a description of the Panams and Nicaragua rou'es, with 48 superb Tinted Lithographs, 324 pages, 8vo.; price $2. This work, by J. M. Letts, has been adjudged by the unanimous voice of the press to be the most elaborate, practical, and intensely interesting volume that has yet been written upon this golden theme. Since the publication of Stevens's Journal of Trayels, no work has appeared that has created such a thrilling sensation. It is pre-eminently practical, and is interspersed with incidents of the most amusing character. In the language of one of the city editorials, "it is a perfect daguerreotype of California, taken by the light of a noonday sun." Also, Dr. Beach's great work on Medicine, THE AMERICAN PRACTICE AND FAMILY PHYSICIAN, 800 pages, 200 engravings, 8vo., sheep: price $5. Dr. Beach is at the hoad of the eclectic practice in this country. Such was the demand, that eighteen thousand copies of this work were printed in one edition. Also, Dr. C. D. Hammond's work on the same principles of practice, MEDICAL, INFORMATION FOR THE MILLION, or TRUE GUIDE TO HEALTH, 12mo., cloth, 528 pages; price $1.50 cloth, $11 paper covers; fourth thousand. Also, WOMAN IN HER VARIOUS RELATIONS—containing practical rules for American females, for their conduct in the detail of every domestic duty; royal 18mo., red cloth, illustrated; 324 pages; price 63 cents. This work should be in the hands of every lady, especially the young. Such is its popularity that nearly three thousand copies have been sold in the region of New York alone within a very few months. Also, a new and very useful article of Stationery for the preservation of valuable papers, &c., needed for reference, such as letters, involces, &c. Its form is that of a scrap-book, with leaves prepared for the reception of the article to be filed—thus superseding, with many advantages, the practice of binding. The retail prices are as follows:

Is General Scott a Union Man!

To the Editors of the American Telegraph : At a meeting convened at Castle Garden, New York, February 25, 1850, to consult upon measures for the preservation of the Union, the subjoined resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the people of New York, without distinction of sect or party, are ardently devoted to the union of these States, as, next to our liberties, the most precious of their political institutions; and, having never yet begun to calculate the value of this Union, can contemplate no contingency in which its dissolution would be otherwise than a gigantie crime against the peace, prosperity, and freedom of our country and of

Resolved, That in the resolutions lately sub litted to the Senate of the United States by Mr. Clay, looking to a complete and final settlement of all questions relating to slavery, on which the eelings of the northern and southern sections of our country have been excited against each other, we joyfully recognise the basis of a harmonious and brotherly adjustment of a most distracting and perilous controversy; and entreat our fellow citizens of all parties and sections to study these resolutions carefully, and in a spirit of devotion to the Union and perpetuity of this noble Confederacy.

Resolved, That, in view of the above considerations, we accept, as the basis of a compromise, the preamble and resolutions as introduced by Mr. Clay into the Senate of the United States on the 19th of January, 1850.

After their unanimous adoption, General Scott, having been called for, arose amid the most tumultuous applause, and addressed the vast multitude in the following clear, sensible, and mphatic union sentiments:

the deepest emotions. I came here this evening not expecting to do more than to take my stand in a corner of the room, for the purpose of listening to the proceedings of this very interesting and important meeting. I had no expectation of having the honor to be called upon this stand. I am indebted to the kindness of a friend, who dishaded to the kindness of a friend the kindness of a fr overed me below, for having to appear in such a conspicuous manner before you. Little did I ex-pect being called upon to address this great and glorious meeting, which is worthy of the Empire | Congress, 1849-'50, pp. 944-948. City, worthy of the Empire State, and worthy of the Union which you come here to support. (Greatapplause.) I see before me the intelligence, the wealth, the patriotism of this great city, voluntarily coming here for the purpose of sup-porting that Union. I am an humble friend and devoted servant of that same Union. I do not call myself a citizen of the East, or of the North, or of the West, or of the South. I have served that Union for nearly forty-two years, and I feel that I am a citizen of every part and parcel of this glorious constellation of States. As a friend of the Union, and knowing that the Union is in jeopardy, and knowing that this meeting was called for the purpose of devising measures of I am not an abolitionist, nor an advocate of slavery. I would not have come here if I had thought those subjects would have militated with each other at this meeting. I did not come here as a Whig or as a Democrat. I have not attended a party meeting for upwards of forty years, but when the cry is that the Union is in danger, and a rally is called for the support of the Union, I soul, all so much devoted.

introduction by Mr. Clay of the Compromise neasures, and to encourage the friends of the Union in Congress and throughout the country. The adaptation of these resolutions to their noble bject is still fresh in the public mind. The Comcomise measures introduced by Mr. Clay were supported by General Scott; and his admirable the country the power and influence he possesses. speech was made on this interesting occasion, which favors the Compromise as strongly as anything we have seen from General Pierce. These resolutions and this speech stamp with falsehood the assertion that he never came out in favor of the Compromise until after he was nominated. For the purpose of sustaining our assertion, we will quote the measures submitted by Mr. Clay.

In the United States Senate, on the 3d day of owners of slaves in securing them, upon their capture in other States. It was a bill reported at the last (30th) Congress by the Committee on the Judiciary, and he desired to introduce it for the purpose of again referring it to that committee." (See Congressional Globe, 1st session, 31st Con gress, page 99.) On the 4th of January, 1850, Mr. Mason did introduce that bill, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. (Congressional Globe, 1st session, 31st Congress, page 103.) On the 22d day of January, 1850, Mr. Mason said that, the bill having been reported, and having been made the order of the day for the morrow, he should, when the bill was taken up, offer two amendments. These were with reference to the penalty of obstructing, ruin spread over the land of his fathers, and her the law, and the non-admissibility of the fugitive's testimony.

The same bill was before the Senate from and after the 4th of January, 1850-just one month and twenty-one days before the Castle Garden meeting-until its passage in an amended form We are thus particular in mentioning the exact time for the benefit of our adversaries. On the 19th day of August, 1850, and subsequently, the same bill was amended by Mr. Mason and others. (See App. to Congressional Globe, 1st session. 31st Congress, commencing at page 1582.) Thus it appears that not only the question of the recovery of fugitive slaves, was a subject of much debate and agitation during the 31st Congress.

AMERICAN TELEGRAPH. legislature and the people, but it had been a subject of discussion two years before.

But our opponents (the Locofocos) say, that at the time of the Castle Garden meeting, none of the Compromise measures had been passed. This is untrue. Let us cramine the Congressional Globe again. There now, turn over to that for the year 1850, page 246. Look at the proceedings on the 29th day of January, 1850. It records the fact that on that day Mr. Clay arose in his place in the Senate and read and commented upon his resolutions of COMPROMISE then presented by him. Before reading the seventh of the series, he said: "The seventh resolution relates to a subject embraced in a bill now under consideration by the Senate. It is as follows: "7. Resolved, That more effectual provisions ought to be made by law according to the re-quirements of the Constitution, for the restitution and delivery of persons bound to service or labor in any State, who may escape into any other State or Territory in the Union."

As that matter was embraced by Mr. Mason's bill, the subject was only alluded to by Mr. Clay, with a view to its endorsement.

To render our adversaries fully satisfied on the subject, we here insert a part of the 2d resolution adopted at the Castle Garden meeting, on the 25th of February, 1850: "Resolved, That in the resolution lately submitted to the Senate of the United States by Mr. Clay, looking to a complete and FINAL settlement of all questions relating to slavery, on which the feel-ings of the Northern and Southern sections of our country have been excited against each other, we joyfully recognize the basis of an harmonious and brotherly adjustment, &c."

Does this fact look as though Gen. Scott was not referring, in his speech at Castle Garden, to Fellow-citizens: Your kind greeting fills me with the measures of adjustment which had been before the Senate for nearly two months-the fugitive slave bill for nearly two years-though they bracing the compromise measures? See Congressional Globe, vol. 2, part 1, 1st session 31st

This resolution, introduced by Mr. Clay, taken together, in combination, proposed an amicable adjustment of all questions in controversy between the free and the slave States growing out of the subject of slavery. It was his support of these measures that occasioned General Scott to remark: "Of whatever value may be the remainder of my life, I would give it in support of the Union."

In making these remarks, General Scott but uttered opinions and arguments which have grown with his years and his judgment, and which were compromise and conciliation, I am come here, as familiar to him as household words. He had Many thanks for the kindness you have shown me. no elaborate documentary discussion to makeno citation of books and authorities. It is with principles he had to deal; and it is in plain, direct statements, which all can understand, that he appeals to his fellow-citizens.

From the days when he first received the rudiments of his education, where his earliest aspirations were nurtured, up to the moment when he would be a coward and a recreant to my country ions were nurtured, up to the moment when he if I did not respond to the call. Of whatever value came forth, all radiant with military splendor, conmay be the remainder of my life, (and none sets scious he had sustained the cause of his country, more value on it than I do,) I would give it in sup-port of the Union. I hope I may not live to see its dissolution; but, if unable to avert its fate, I would be buried beneath its ruins. God grant the Union. It is plain, indeed, that he has that you may devise or fall upon some plan to thriven herctofore by its progress and success: save that Union to which we are, in heart and and it is, we think, equally plain that, in time to come, if he should be elected to the Presidency, The patriotic resolutions adopted on that occa- his hopes and his fortunes can be advanced only sion were intended to support the then recent by its continued stability. On all the leading interests of the country his opinions are known; his ground is taken; his lot is cast. Whoever may attack the Union, he must defend it. The path he has chosen is the path he must pursue. We rejoice that, when a man so renowned, faithfully and proudly devotes to the institutions of Our opponents know full well that General Scott stands pledged in uniting to sustain the Compromise, including the fugitive slave bill: and, we venture to say, that our adversaries believe that General Scott is a man of honor. If these things be so, how preposterous is it in our opponents to attempt to make the public believe. on the strength of such an assertion that a man of honor-one distinguished as General Scott by the anuary, 1850, "Mr. Mason (of Virginia) gave recorded tributes of the National and various State notice of his intention to ask leave to introduce legislatures to his chivalric fame-that such a bill to provide for the more effectual execution man as this is capable of falsifying his word and of the third clause of the second section of the of being recreant to the principles of honor, truth, fourth article of the Constitution of the United and patriotism, which his whole life, since early States. Mr. Mason said * * * that its object manhood, has illustrated. The public services was to provide additional accommodation to the of Winfield Scott, which have been signalized by results that have covered his name with imperishable glory, and which have exalted our national character, contradict and totally demolish the absurd and ridiculous idea so recklessly advanced by our opponents. His countrymen never can be brought to think that because he is the Whig nominee for the next Presidency, he is divested of those high qualities which have heretofore constituted and sustained his claim to their admiration and
